CORE 10.

10 core workouts. 10–20 minutes. Kettlebell, dumbbells, or nothing at all.

A stronger core in 10–20 minutes.

Your core does more than show up in photos. It protects your back, carries your strength from your legs to your arms, and keeps you moving well as you get older. You don't need an hour of crunches to train it. You need a few smart minutes, a couple of times a week.

Most of these are workouts I've posted on Instagram, written out so you can run them. Each one takes 10–20 minutes with one kettlebell, a pair of dumbbells, or nothing at all. Run one on its own, or tack it onto the end of a workout.

#	Workout	Time	Equipment
1	15-Min KB Core	15 min	Kettlebell
2	18-Min KB Core	18 min	Kettlebell
3	Kneeling KB Core	15–20 min	Kettlebell
4	15-Min Core, 1 KB	15 min	Kettlebell
5	The Chop Shop	12–15 min	KB or DB
6	Floor Core Circuit	18 min	None
7	Dumbbell Core	15 min	Dumbbells
8	Carry Finisher	10 min	KB or DB
9	Plank EMOM	10 min	None
10	L-Sit Holds	5 min	Parallettes or chairs

How to use it: 2–3 core sessions a week is plenty. Pick by the time and gear you have. Rest at least a day between the harder ones.

Warm-up (3 min): 10 cat-cows, 10 bird dogs per side, 10 hip bridges, 20-second plank.

Scaling: start with a light kettlebell or dumbbell and short holds. If your lower back arches or takes over, cut the range or the time before you add weight.
